LAST WEEK'S MARKETS.

Changes and the Condition at the Close of Business Noted.

Many fluctuations characterized the local markets last week. The prices of some commodities were advanced, notably meats, while grain and flour took a decided drop and the market closed weak Saturday night. Wheat was marketed freely and Saturday morning local dealers put the price down to 87 cents a bushel. Oats were weak and dull at 34 cents. Corn was very quiet with little moving. Quotations ruled weak at 40 cents. Barley was unchanged at $1 and $1.25 a cwt. Buckwheat ruled easy at 40 and 45 cents a bushel. Vegetables were steady with firm quotations. Potatoes were not moving to any extent, with quotations from 20 to 25 cents a bushel. Cabbages ruled steady with no change from former quotations, 30 and 40 cents a dozen. Onions advanced a few cents and the demand grew stronger toward the close of the week's business, with quotations at 70 and 75 cents a bushel. Butter and eggs were on the advance toward the last of the week. The amount placed on the market was a little less than the week previous. Prices were strong at 50 and 52 cents for each. The amount of apples marketed each week grows less. Owing to the early indications of the fruit to decay the farmer's surplus was marketed early. Prices are strong with quotations at $2.35 a barrel and $1.25 and $1.35 a bushel for choice grocery stock. Flour was reduced 10 cents a hundred within the week. The retail price to the consumer closed at $2.60 and $3.10 a cwt. according to brand. Feed continued at former prices and the market closed easy. Retail quotations: Corn meal, $20 a ton; feed, $20 and $21; middlings, $20; bran, $18; ships and screenings, $19. Clover seed was in demand with but little offered for sale on the market. Quotations for clover ranged from $4.75 to $5.25 a bushel. Meats were a little scarce and the market ruled higher than at any former time since the fall trade opened. Pork advanced 1 cent, closing at 41 cents a pound. Poultry was in demand and quotations went up. Fowls were quoted at 9 and 10 cents, and chickens were worth 11 and 12 cents. Lamb and veal advanced so that quotations closed strong at 8 cents for the former and 6 for the latter. The far and hide market was without special feature, closing steady at 4 cents for green, 3 for skins over 70 pounds in weight, and calf skins remained at 5 cents for green and 6 cents for cured. Hay was quiet at $15 a ton for loose timothy on the market and $13 for clover. Real estate was a little more active than the week previous. Many transfers were reported at the register's office and inquiries were numerous for property for spring trade.

The Grand Rapids Typographical union held a meeting yesterday afternoon and a large number of members was in attendance. The question of abolishing the use of plate matter in local papers was the principal subject for discussion. After a thorough debate of the probable effect of positive action on the business of newspaper publishers and the best interests of the printers a vote was taken, which resulted in abolishing the use of all plate matter on and after March 1.

HOW MEN WEAR THEIR CUFFS.

As Many Different Relations as There Are Kinds of Men.

It is quite interesting to study the different ways men wear their cuffs, says a writer in the Buffalo Enquirer. A certain class of men always wear the largest size they can buy, and another class get those but a little larger than their wrists. As a rule, the small, weasel-faced man wears the largest cuffs. He generally gets No. 11, and always allows them to come down over his hands. The fat man generally wears small cuffs and rarely has them in sight. Another conspicuous character in the man who always keeps his little finger sprawling around in the attempt to push his cuff up where it belongs. Examine his hand closely and you will find a small callous on the outer edge of his little finger. Why does he persist in wearing them this way? He realizes that it looks untidy, and that they are an annoyance to him, yet you could not induce him to have his shirt sleeves made shorter or to wear sleeve supports. Then again you meet the man who always wears the "cuff machine," an ingenious contrivance that attaches the cuff to the sleeve and may be raised or lowered at will. Next comes the man who saves his laundry bill by reversing his cuffs, and the man who has them joined to his shirt sleeves.

MR. SPEAKER BUSH.

The Man Who Will Precede Over the New York Assembly.

The man who is to precede over the New York assembly will have no easy task, the narrow majority by which the democrats hold power there, as well as the manner by which it was secured, meeting many bitter contests on the floor of the house, particularly when bills are up that have political bearings. The man upon whom this task will devolve is Dr. Robert P. Bush, of Chemung county. He is 50 years of age, and is now serving his seventh term as member of the legislature. His home is at Horsham, where he is held in personal esteem, having been elected to several minor offices before he reached the assembly. He graduated at the Buffalo University Medical department and at Bellevue Medical college, New York City.

The afternoon will be consumed mostly by the appointment of committees, hearing reports and with President Dick's annual address. At the evening session a paper will be read by Dr. Welsch, on poisons and their remedy. The Rev. Dr. Fuhrer will read a paper on Sunday funerals, and Professor Clark will lecture on a new method of embalming the dead. The program for Thursday morning contains lectures and practical demonstrations in the art of embalming by Profs. J. H. Clark and C. L. Benjamin. These gentlemen are considered to be among the most practical demonstrators of the country. Immediately following these demonstrations and lectures will occur the election of officers and the selection of a place for holding the next convention. The session will close at noon, Thursday.

PROHIBITION RESOLUTIONS.

They are Anxious to Consolidate With the People's Party.

Resolutions adopted by the Grand Rapids Prohibition club, at its meeting January 9, 1892:

Resolved, That the Prohibition club of Grand Rapids are pleased to note the fact that the conference in Lansing, December, 29, called "for the purpose of organizing the people's party in Michigan" adopted a prohibition plank in its platform. It shows the strength of prohibition sentiment among the industrial classes.

Resolved, That prohibition is a national question, which cannot be settled short of national prohibitory legislation, to secure which a national prohibition party is necessary. A national party cannot exist without its state, county and precinct organizations. It is the duty of all who believe in the existence of a national prohibition party to support that state, county and predict organization which is auxiliary to such national prohibition, and no other.

Resolved, That we hail with delight the free adoption of a prohibition plank in the platform of the national organization of the people's party, as it would certainly lead to a union of all the people who believe in prohibition and industrial reform in one political organization. Such a union means an early victory.

Resolved, That every Michigan prohibitionist should support none but the prohibition party in this state, at least until the national organization of another party shall adopt prohibition. This should be done, notwithstanding the action of the people's party in Lansing. Should the national organization of the people's party refuse to adopt prohibition, then those, if any, who had left the prohibition party to act with the people's party would have crippled the only national prohibition party and found themselves in embarrassing political affiliations.

Resolved, That the national prohibition party should broaden its platform upon economic questions at its next national convention.

Resolved, That should the national peoples party convention embody an honest and broad declaration for prohibition in its platform, steps should be speedily taken to bring about a consolidation of the peoples and prohibition parties under whatever name could be agreed upon.

Resolved, That a state conference of the prohibition party should be held in Michigan at an early date, and an invitation is hereby extended to the state central committee to hold such conference in this city.

The above resolutions were adopted by practically a unanimous vote, after a full and lengthy discussion on each proposition.

Their Unanimous Choice.

Residents of the southern portion of the city regardless of party politics are signing a petition to be presented to Mayor Uhl, asking for the appointment of Jerome Phillips to fill the vacancy now existing on the board of public works. This petition was numerously signed at the mass meeting held Saturday evening at Losey's hall. It is the opinion of numerous tax payers in that portion of the city that their interests demand a representative on the board and Mr. Phillips seems to be the unanimous choice.

JOHN E. REDMOND.

Member of Parliament for Waterford, One of the Parnellites.

Although for the moment, Irish politics command less attention and affairs in the Emerald Isle are in a state of unwanted quietude, it seems likely that the temporary lull will be amply compensated for by the subsequent feverish activity. The day of the dissolution of the present house of commons is drawing uncomfortably near, and already the skirmish for position between the English parties is in active progress. Meanwhile, the Irish factions are drifting further and further apart to the great delight of the Tories, who hope to snatch victory out of the fire by this means. The Parnellites, indignant at John E. Redmond's defeat in Cork, and elated by his recent election in Waterford, are prepared to try conclusions with their opponents at the next election with greater bitterness than ever. Davitt is not pouring oil on the troubled waters, and it is to be feared that if the liberals and friends of home rule are to be returned to power, it must be without that united and solid support of the Irish parliamentary party which Mr. Parnell made so powerful and valuable an engine in promoting the course of home rule.

Have You? Many Millions Have

accepted James Pyle's invitation to try his wonderful discovery, Pyle's Pearline; for easy washing and cleaning. You couldn't count them in a lifetime. Some of the twelve million housekeepers in this land must have accepted very often. That's the way with Pearline. The wise woman who investigates, tries it; the woman who tries it continues to use it. A daily increasing sale proves it. The truth is, there's nothing so acceptable as Pearline. Once accept its help, and you'll decline the imitations—they don't help you. It washes clothes or cleans house. It saves labor and it saves wear. It hurts nothing, but it's suited to everything. Try it when it suits you, for it will suit you when you try it.

Beware

Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell on, "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE! Pearline is never peddled, and if you grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, do the honest thing—send it back. JAMES PYLE, New York.
